Evening In The Universe is a UK jazz band pushing the boundaries of the genre with a unique blend of ethereal soundscapes, brash punk energy, and rich, atmospheric textures.

The quintet, featuring Tashomi Balfour, Saul Eisenberg, Filippo Galli, Sean Quinn, and JJ Stillwell, brings a fresh, innovative sound to the jazz scene

Their music combines the smooth, intricate elements of traditional jazz with bold, experimental tones. Saul Eisenberg's handcrafted instruments and Sean Quinn's custom-built gadgets create otherworldly soundscapes, while Tashomi Balfour's powerful solos and the collaborative songwriting efforts of JJ Stillwell and Filippo Galli add layers of depth and emotion

Evening In The Universe has just released their self-titled debut EP, featuring four original tracks that showcase their distinctive style. This EP captures the band's dynamic range, from serene, ethereal melodies to energetic, punk-inspired rhythms, offering listeners a glimpse into their innovative approach to jazz. Discover the new sound of UK jazz with Evening In The Universe's debut EP, available now.
